DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is a five bay long, two story frame structure with a hyphen and one story kitchen built out the back. From the irregularity of the fenestration, the building appears to have been built in two sections. The north three bays of the structure appear earliest, with the remainder being a subsequent addition. All windows have 6/6 sash, except the kitchen which has 4/4 sash. The walls are covered with green asbestos and the roof with asphalt shingle. There is a chimney in all three outside gables, the north chimney being larger and part of the earliest part.

In front of the central door is a porch with segmentally arched heads and a partial wall below.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The house is important to the development of vernacular forms in the county. Obviously the builders were interested in achieving a certain symmetry with the extension, although the fenestration is a 'dead give-away'.
